African American, Women’s, and Civil War History Lead the Way

African American history topics were the most popular for the OAH Distinguished Lectureship Program during 2011-2012, accounting for nearly a quarter of all lectures given. Women’s history and Civil War history topics were also in demand, with each category representing approximately 20 percent of all lectures given.

Note: More than one lecture each in the topics of Latino/a, Cold War, early national, immigration, Native American, and labor history were also given during the past fiscal year, but are not represented in this chart.

Visit http://lectures.oah.org to learn more and to schedule an OAH Lecturer today.

2013 Larry J. Hackman Research Residency Program

Research Grants Available!

at the New York State Archives
Albany, New York

Research Grants Available!

at the New York State Archives
Albany, New York

The New York State Archives and the Archives Partnership Trust announce the availability of awards to qualified applicants to pursue research using historical records at the New York State Archives. Awards generally range from $100-$4,500 for advanced research in New York history, government, or public policy. Applicants working on doctoral dissertations and those at the postdoctoral level are particularly encouraged to apply. Additionally, applications are available for teachers and public historians interested in advanced research.

www.nysarchivestrust.org
for application and requirements.