

Student Research Grants

Submission Deadline: May 15, 2010

The National Center for Digital Government (NCDG) has as its core mission building global research capacity and a community of experts to support the institutional development and analysis of digital and electronic government. NCDG's Student Research Grants are designed to support advanced undergraduate and graduate student research programs at UMass Amherst that examine the intersection of information and communication technologies, policy, and government. Requests up to $1,000 will be considered.

To apply, send the following materials as a single PDF file to Michelle Gonçalves, NCDG Program Manager, at mgoncalves@pubpol.umass.edu:

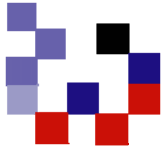

- NCDG Student Research Grant Application (attached)
- Current c.v. or resume
- Detailed budget

All materials must be received by May 15, 2010.

Grant recipients will be notified during summer 2010. Awards will be available for use during the 2010-2011 academic year.

Questions about the NCDG Student Research Grants may be addressed to Michelle Gonçalves: mgoncalves@pubpol.umass.edu or 413 577 2354.
