Kingsley Fletcher Proposed Dissertation Title: Perceptions of Contemporary Effects of Colonialism Among Education Professionals in Ghana." Statement of the Problem: The educational structures of contemporary Ghana are rooted in systems established by the former colonial powers (Crowder, 1978), are rooted in European perspectives and effectively perpetuate colonial cultural imperialism and neo-colonialism. A variety of colonial legacies are present in contemporary Ghana. To overcome the effects of colonialism on Ghanaian society and in the educational system and structures of Ghana requires an awareness of those effects, especially by those who control the educational system. Love.
