Conference Presentations

- A number of EPRA doctoral students and faculty members participated in a symposium organized by Joshua Marland, Ed.D. candidate, entitled, "Using Available Information in Calculating Teacher Effectiveness with Growth and Value Added Models." The symposium, in which Jennifer Randall served as the discussant, was presented on May 1, 2014 at the New England Educational Research Organization (NEERO) in Dover, Vermont. The following three papers were presented:
  - Jackie Dickey, Ed.D. candidate, presented, "Sources of Error in Value-Added: From Data Collection to Classification."

- On April 21, Ronald K. Hambleton, EPRA, presented to the Psychology Department at Fordham University on, "Getting Serious About Test Score Reporting."

Funding Opportunities

- The Institute of Educational Sciences (IES) has recently announced several funding opportunities for the 2015 fiscal year (http://ies.ed.gov/funding/index.asp?current). Please note that some of the categories allow only one submission per institution, so if you are thinking of submitting an IES proposal, please contact the College via educore@educ.umass.edu.

If you would like to submit information to be included in the next College of Education Spotlight on Research, please email educore@educ.umass.edu no later than Wednesday June 11, 2014.
