English Subject Matter Requirements

The goal of the Secondary Teacher Education Program’s English Education pathways are to prepare critical, reflective English teachers to work in diverse middle and high schools. To that end, candidates engage in a rigorous program of study that blends theory and practice, course work in English and education, and time in University classes and public school classrooms. We are looking for diverse candidates who are committed to social justice and supporting all students to develop the strategies, literacies, and skills necessary to thrive in an increasingly diverse, globally connected, and technologically dependent world. We encourage applications for STEP English from candidates with a strong background in English (see the Outline of Subject Matter Requirements in English for competency areas) and some experience working with youth, teaching or tutoring, and/or living/learning/working/volunteering in diverse settings.
