Welcome Information for Teachers and Parents

Our goal is to offer high quality performances for young people in a safe and comfortable setting. Please help us by following the below guidelines.

Please arrive early. You should arrive at the theatre 30 minutes prior to the noted start time. Allow for travel time, parking, being seated and bathroom visits. It is important that we begin our performances on time so that all schools can meet their lunch and/or dismissal times.

Be sure to check the location of the performance when making your bus reservations. Performances take place in the Fine Arts Center Concert Hall or Bowker Auditorium in Stockbridge Hall. Please see the map at the end of this guide for driving and drop-off instructions.

Upon arrival your group will be greeted by an usher either at your bus or in the lobby. We do not issue individual tickets for performances. Your usher will direct your group to their reserved seats.

Both theaters are accessible for Mobility Impaired members. An infrared listening system is available in both theaters. Access parking is available adjacent to the theaters. An Access permit should be clearly visible in the parked vehicle. To better meet your needs, please inform us of any special seating requirements one month prior to the performance by calling 413-545-2116.

For the comfort of all our seated patrons, we request that backpacks, lunches and other gear be left on the bus. Also, please remove all hats when seated in the theater.

Food, drinks other than water, smoking, candy and gum are all not allowed in the theater. The use of cell phones, portable music players, cameras or any other recording device, including non-flash photography and cell phone cameras, is strictly prohibited. PLEASE BE SURE TO TURN OFF ALL CELL PHONES.

Any teasing, disruptive and rude behavior by students towards each other or to others seated close-by during a performance is not acceptable. Teachers and chaperones will be held responsible for any such incident reported to the Fine Arts Center staff. All complaints received will be forwarded to the schools involved. Repeated offences from the same school/s may result in cancellation of future reservations for shows.

Please read and review the following information with your students.

WE expect everyone to be a good audience member.

Good audience members

- Are good listeners
- Keep their hands and feet to themselves
- Do not talk or whisper during the performance
- Do not eat gum, candy, food or drink in the theater
- Turn off all cell phones and do not use portable music players, cameras or any other recording devices
- Stay in their seats during the performance
- Do not disturb their neighbors or other schools in attendance

"Theatre is not theatre without an audience."

Live theatre differs from watching television or movies. Remember that performers can see and hear you. As an audience member you are a vital contributor to the performance experience that you and those around you will have. How you behave and how you react to the show will affect the artists' performances. That is why each performance is a unique experience, it will never be repeated exactly the same. Talking to your neighbor, sending text messages, and other similar behaviors are distracting to the rest of the audience and to the artists. Please be respectful of the artists on stage performing for you by listening quietly.

Of course, it is appropriate to react to what you are seeing – some things may make you laugh, gasp out loud, or you may be asked to respond by answering questions from the performers, singing along or clapping.

Most of all, it is important to be present “in the moment” by being attentive and enjoy the performance. And of course – show your enthusiastic appreciation by applause at the end of the performance!
Laura Ingalls Wilder: Growing Up on the Prairie is a musical play based on the childhood memories of American author Laura Ingalls Wilder.

Before the performance:
* Read “The Play’s Story” to your class.
* Have students complete Reproducible Page 3 to become familiar with the play’s geography.
* Introduce the cast of characters and the theatrical term “doubling” discussed below.

After the performance:
* Have students read Reproducible Page 4 to learn more about Laura Ingalls Wilder.
* Direct students to complete the writing activity on Reproducible Page 5, a personal reflection on a theme from the play.

Cast of Characters
(in order of appearance)
1. Laura Ingalls
2. Charles Ingalls - Laura’s “Pa”
3. Caroline Ingalls - Laura’s “Ma”
4. Mary Ingalls - Laura’s older sister
5. Nellie Owens - Laura’s rival, when she moves to the Dakota Territory

Tell students, “During the performance, you will see four actors play five characters. One actor plays two characters. When an actor plays more than one character, we call that ‘doubling.’ Ask students to predict which roles are doubled. (The actor who plays Mary ‘doubles’ as Nellie Owens.)

During the performance, direct your students, “Watch for which roles are doubled and how the actor playing two roles shows that he or she becomes another character.”

After the performance, discuss ways the actor showed that she became another character.
During the play, the Ingalls family travels by covered wagon to three new homes. Below is a map of the states where the family moves and lives during the play. Use a pencil to show the Ingalls family’s travels.

1. Draw a little house in Wisconsin.

2. Trace a line to show the family’s travels through Iowa and Missouri to Kansas.

3. Draw a little house in Kansas.

4. Trace a line to show the journey through Nebraska and Iowa to Minnesota.

5. Draw a little house in Minnesota. Connect it to a final little house in the Dakota Territory.
Laura Elizabeth Ingalls
Laura Elizabeth Ingalls was born in Wisconsin on February 7, 1867. Like her father, she loved to travel. Like her mother, she loved to read. Laura was the best student in her school. At fifteen years old, she was hired to be a teacher. Because she was younger than other teachers, she was not allowed to tell anyone how old she was.

At eighteen, she married Almanzo (“Manly”) Wilder, and at nineteen, she had her first child, Rose. When Laura was over sixty years old, she began to write about her childhood life on the prairie. These memories became the Little House books. The titles of her books are on the cut-out bookmark.

To make your own bookmark, cut along the dotted line. Take your bookmark to the library. Find and enjoy Laura Ingalls Wilder’s books!
Lines are words that actors memorize and speak to tell a play’s story. Here are lines spoken by Laura and Pa during the play.

LAURA: Hey, Pa? What’s the one thing I’m good at—that nobody else can do?

PA: Huh?

LAURA: Mary’s the smartest. But who am I?

PA: (teasing her) You’re a Half-pint!

LAURA: (frustrated) Pa!

Laura searched until she found that she was good at learning, writing, and teaching. What do you do well? Use the web, below, to organize your thoughts.
Theatre Collaborators

1. List the following theatre jobs on the chalkboard:
   Writer/Lyricist, Composer, Producer, Director, Costume Designer,
   Set Designer, Light and Sound Designer, Crew, Stage Manager

2. Read the following paragraph to your class.
   "Theatre is a collaborative art: many people work together to create a play. The audience never sees many of the people who collaborate to make theatre. Collaborators include:
   the writer/lyricist, who writes the words the actors speak and sing; the composer, who writes the music; the producer, who provides money to fund the performance and supervises the play’s creation; the director, who determines the overall desired effect/goal for the production; designers for costumes, scenery, lighting and sound; the crew who build and operate scenery, costumes, lighting and sound; and the stage manager, who ensures that people and things get on and off stage at the proper time."

3. Discuss:
   "What skills do you think are needed to perform each theatrical collaborator’s job?
   Who would need to be organized? drawn well? enjoy hammering? speak well?
   be creative? lead a group? be strong?"
   (There may be more than one “correct” answer for each question.)
   "What job would you enjoy? Why?"

Costume Design

1. Read the following paragraph to your students.
   "Costumes support the play’s setting in time and place, and provide clues about characters.
   Costumes tell the audience a lot about a character before a single word is uttered.
   They reveal a character’s age, time in history, occupation, social status, and attitudes.
   The costume designer plans costumes that will support a character’s development."

2. Before the performance:
   Direct students to complete the activity on Page 7.

3. After the performance:
   Discuss: "How were your drawings similar to/different from those seen in the play?
   How did the costumes you designed and those you saw in the play reveal characters’ ages, time in history, social status and attitudes?"
DESIGN A COSTUME

Use the dress pattern, below, along with the character descriptions and lines from the play, to design a costume for either Laura Ingalls or Nellie Owens.

Think about the character’s time in history, social status, attitudes, and age. Consider colors, patterns, and clothing accents, like buttons, lace, or ribbons. Feel free to add accessories like a hat, gloves, or fan, if it suits the character.

LAURA is an energetic tomboy: likeable, fun-loving, quick-paced, determined and intelligent. She loves new adventures and is always ready to meet new challenges.

NELLE is a pretty, but stuck-up, snobbish, spoiled brat who “looks down her nose” at Laura.

BOTH GIRLS are around eleven years old.

SCENE 4
Laura
It was about a three mile walk into the town of Walnut Grove. The walk was no problem. Of course, I hated school. But it was in town that I had the real problem.

Nellie
I don’t associate with ‘country girls’ who live in sod-houses.

Laura
Her name was Nellie Owens. Her father ran the general store. She ran the town.

HAVE FUN!
FINAL NOTES

The Audience
The audience is the final element in creating theatre. Until the audience arrives, a play is merely a rehearsal, not a performance.

“As an audience member, you play an important role. At the beginning of the play, the theatre will become dark. This is your cue to become very quiet. Because actors are in the same room, they—and other audience members—will become distracted if you make extra noise. During the play, feel free to laugh or even to cry at what’s happening in the story. After songs and at the end of the play, clap to show your appreciation for the performers. Enjoy the play!”

PARKING AND DIRECTIONS FOR THE FINE ARTS CENTER’S CONCERT HALL and RAND THEATER

School Bus Parking: Students should be dropped-off at Haigis Mall off of Massachusetts Avenue. University Security will direct buses to an appropriate parking lot during the performance (typically by the football stadium). PLEASE BE SURE YOUR BUS DRIVER KNOWS THAT ALL PERFORMANCES LAST APPROXIMATELY 1 HOUR AND THEY SHOULD RETURN A FEW MINUTES BEFORE THE ANTICIPATED END TIME. If drivers are not with the buses, they may miss the radio call from security asking them to return for pick-up, resulting in unnecessary delays returning to your school.

Individual cars: If necessary, individuals may drop-off students with a chaperone at Haigis Mall (you will be directed by security to the mid-point turn of Haigis Mall – see map) prior to parking.
