Through memories, music, and history, this documentary chronicles a vibrant community of immigrants from the Cape Verde Islands in the Fox Point section of Providence, Rhode Island faced with displacement by urban renewal and gentrification. Poignant, heartfelt, and warm, this film captures the essence, spirit, and heart of a community whose history was erased before it had been written.

Film screening and Q&A with the Director, Claire Andrade-Watkins.

Introduction by Debora Ferreira and Sid Ferreira, UMass Amherst.

More info at: umass.edu/film