VI. Appointment, Reappointment, Termination or Extension Procedures of TAs/TOs/ and Interns in the Department of Music and Dance.

- For reappointment, students must be in good academic standing and have a record of satisfactorily fulfilling current teaching and/or performance responsibilities as a TA/TO or Intern. The assessment of satisfactory performance may include, but is not limited to consideration of student evaluations or reports, evaluations of direct supervisors, and/or the quality of participation and the leadership role of the student in ensembles.

- Graduate Teaching Assistantships in Music are normally offered with the expectation of regular renewal for a total of 4 semesters. Assistantships may be terminated before the end of 4 semesters for any one or more of the following reasons:
  1. lack of University funding (under the terms of the GEO contract);
  2. unsatisfactory academic performance as a graduate student in Music;
  3. unsatisfactory work performance as a TA/TO/Intern in Music;
  4. any other reason that constitutes "just cause."

- Except in the most unusual circumstances (for example, unexcused absence from workplace responsibilities), a formal 30-day letter of warning from the Department Chair will precede the termination of a TA/TO/or Intern prior to the 4-semester commitment.

- Continuation of a TA/TO/Intern beyond the normal 4-semester commitment may be considered by the Department by special written request to the Department Chair before March 15th of an academic year. Such a request must be based on compelling educational reasons and supported by the graduate student’s major professor and by the Graduate Program Director. In order to provide maximum opportunities for entering graduate students, such extensions will be granted infrequently, and the duration will be for a fifth or sixth semester at the maximum.
