

Five College History Seminar, 2011-12

FALL SEMESTER

October 13

Fred Hoxie, University of Illinois/Amherst College Frost Library Fellow

“Indian American or American Indian: Vine Deloria, Jr. as a Political Activist”

November 10

Joel Wolfe, University of Massachusetts at Amherst

“Frontiers, Interiors, Borders, and Peripheries: Land's Divergent Political Meanings in the Americas”

December 8

Catherine Epstein, Amherst College

“Modern German and European History in the American Academy, 1945-2010”

SPRING SEMESTER

February 9

Richard Gassan, American University of Sharjah (UAE)

“‘There You Will See Nearly Every Form of Human Misery’: Moral Reform and Tourism to Antebellum New York City.”

March 8

Teresa Shawcross, Amherst College /Mount Holyoke College

“Should Historians Read Romances? The Quixotic Ideal of Interdisciplinarity in the Twenty-First Century”

April 12

Richard Chu, University of Massachusetts at Amherst/5 Colleges

“Transnationalizing the History of the Chinese in the Philippines: Directions, Methods, and Implications”