Career and Education Advising

In these times of economic uncertainty, what can you do to get ready for a better job? Are you ready to move up? Do you want to do something that's less strenuous on your body, but don't know what job skills you would need? Do you know what you'd like to do, but need help getting there? Are you wondering how to get on a track that will lead to a better job? Would you like some help with educational goals and direction? If you are looking for a way to put your life goals to work for you, make an appointment with Leslie Fraser: call 545-1600 or email lfraser@admin.umass.edu.

Aggie's Voice Is in Kindred Voices II

Kindred Voices II: The Workers Writing Project is finally in print! Aggie Mitchkoski, who works in Psychology, has several writings in this anthology by union-represented workers that reveals aspects of the American workforce that seldom make the headlines. There are no strikes or slowdowns in this collection. Instead, the workers write about everyday concerns, tapping into a wealth of experiences that reflect respect for hard work, family, faith, and rites of passage and renewal. See our website for information on purchasing your own copy: www.umass.edu/lmwep/kindredvoices. And congratulations, Aggie!
