

Directions to BLS

BLS is located in the Postal Square Building, the building that also houses the U.S. Postal Museum, at 2 Massachusetts Ave., N.E. in the District of Columbia. You can reach Union Station by public transportation (Metro, MARC, VRE trains), Amtrak, or by car. There is public parking at Union Station, and there are a number of other public garages and parking lots within a few blocks of BLS.

The BLS Visitors' Entrance is just across First Street, N.E. from the Union Station. To get to the Visitors' Entrance from the Red Line Metro train platform, use the escalator by the elevator. Go through the turnstiles, stay to the left to exit Union Station, and cross the street.

Admittance to BLS

You must have a picture ID to be admitted to BLS, and you must enter through the Visitors' Entrance. The Visitors' Entrance is located on First St. N.E. directly across from the First Street exit from Metro.

Directions to PC Training Room #1

- After you check in with security, pass through the double doors and take an elevator on your left to the "G" level.
- PC Training Room #1 is located in the Conference Center (Rm G440).
- After you enter the Conference Center, walk past the reception desk and the BLS Career Development Resource Center office into the main lobby.
- PC Training Room #1 is located beyond Rooms 9 & 10, so exit the lobby to your left, and follow the hallway.