Industrial Organization and Applied Econometrics
Assistant Professor Position

Department of Resource Economics
College of Social and Behavioral Sciences
University of Massachusetts Amherst

Job Description
The Department of Resource Economics invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with an applied econometrics research focus in industrial organization. Under exceptional circumstances, highly qualified candidates at other ranks may receive consideration. Teaching responsibilities will include graduate and undergraduate courses in industrial organization, and quantitative methods/applied econometrics. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue interdisciplinary research opportunities across the University of Massachusetts Amherst campus as part of the Computational Social Sciences Institute.

Requirements
Applicants are required to have a Ph.D. in industrial organization, agricultural/managerial/resource/applied economics, economics, or a related field as of September 1, 2016.

Additional Information
The Department of Resource Economics has 14 faculty, 300 undergraduate majors, and about 20 graduate students (one-half are Ph.D. candidates). We place special emphases on faculty-student interaction and cooperation among faculty. We share a fundamental commitment to teach and attract a diverse student body.

Application Instructions
To apply, submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, and writing samples online at http://umass.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=63605. Please arrange to have 3 letters of recommendation sent directly to IOsearch@resecon.umass.edu.

Review of applications will begin November 6, 2015. The search will continue until the position is filled. We will be conducting preliminary interviews of candidates at the Allied Social Sciences Association meetings in San Francisco, January 2016. Inquiries may be directed to IOsearch@resecon.umass.edu.

The University is part of the 5-College Consortium in the beautiful Pioneer Valley of Western Massachusetts, with excellent social, cultural, and recreational amenities in a town and rural setting. We are 2 hours from Boston and 3 hours from New York City.

The university is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The University of Massachusetts Amherst is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University’s goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will holistically assess the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual’s record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research or other work activities. We will also favorably consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to an academic degree and career.
