CALLING IN THE CALLING OUT CULTURE

APRIL 2, 2016
9AM-5PM
Smith College, Wright Hall
Leo Weinstein Auditorium

REGISTER NOW
SPACE IS LIMITED
http://bit.ly/1QQC0Gr
Questions? Contact: CallingInGathering@gmail.com

CALLING IN the CALLING OUT Culture is a FREE skills-building gathering for student activists in the Pioneer Valley.

This gathering aims to build and nurture political consciousness and student leadership and activism based in the Pioneer Valley. We will build our skills to transform our political culture into a winning strategy for social justice and human rights.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Katherine Cross
Katherine Cross is a Ph.D student in Sociology who studies anti-social behaviour online. She is also a widely published feminist writer and gaming critic; she's an itinerant Valkyrie who loves pizza, slugs, and a good Scotch (though, preferably, not all at once).

Loretta Ross
Loretta J. Ross was the National Coordinator of the SisterSong Women of Color Reproductive Justice Collective from 2005-2012. She has worked on hate groups, violence against women, and human rights, and helped create the theory of "Reproductive Justice" in 1994. She co-authored Undivided Rights: Women of Color Organize for Reproductive Justice in 2004. She is currently an associate at the Five College Women's Studies Research Center.