A Homeland Security thread at the 20th Int’l Soils Conference*
University of Massachusetts, Amherst Campus Center (CC)
Tuesday OCTOBER 19 from noon to 10 pm.

Research Initiatives and Coordination
A dialogue between the scientific community and the response community.
Please JOIN US and bring your colleagues

| NOON:-1:30 | Luncheon with Juan J. Reyes, Dept. of Homeland Security: Director, Office of Safety and Environment, Management Directorate, Administrative Services. CC 10th floor ($18—tickets in advance only) |
| 1:30 – 5:30 pm | Platform Session on Environmental Terrorism, CC Auditorium
Klaus Nusslein, Dept of Microbiology, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA; Environmental Detection of Microbial Weapons
Richard Wait, MD Baystate Medical Center, Springfield, MA. The Use of GIS to Coordinate Medical Response in Case of Environmental Terrorism
Abhi Deshmukh, Dept of Mech and Ind. Eng, UMA, Coordination of Emergency Response Actions Using an Integrated Decision Framework
Major Stephen Davis, National Guard Bureau, Arlington, VA, National Guard Response to Environmental Terrorism –Homeland Defense
Aura Ganz, Dept. of Computer Science, UMA Wireless TeleCare for Mass Casualty Situations |
| 7 - 10 pm | Workshop #8: Panel: Policy Issues in Inter-Agency Coordination CC 904-08
Paula Stamps Moderator, UMass Community. Health Studies
Patrick Carnevale Regional Director, MEMA
Edward Kunce Deputy Commissioner MA-DEP
Maureen Lichtveld MD, MPH, Senior Health Scientist, CDC liaison to GSU
Juan Reyes DHS, Director, Office of Safety and Environment Directorate
John Woodward MITRE, Director of Information Warfare |

* one-day registration for the Soils Conference and luncheon at http://www.UMassSoils.com
For more information, call Barbara Pearson, Managing Director, UMass SEPRI

Security, Emergency Preparedness, and Response Institute
413-577-2294 bpearson@sepri.umass.edu