

DEPARTMENTAL

(Courses above 100-level automatically count towards the major. All departmental courses count towards the minor.)

ENGLISH 132 Gender, Sexuality, Literature and Culture

Online - Sec 1 Instructor: Brian Johnson, Email: bsjohnso@hotmail.com

Online - Sec 2 Instructor: Claire Schomp, Email: cschomp@english.umass.edu

Online - Sec 3 Instructor: Stacy Jiang, Email: stacyj@english.umass.edu

Literature treating the relationship between man and woman. Topics may include: the nature of love, the image of the hero and heroine, and definitions, past and present of the masculine and feminine. Very popular course; register early. Check website description for textbooks at www.umassulearn.net. Order books before course begins so you don't fall behind. Make sure you order textbooks for the correct section.

SOCIOL 387 Sexuality and Society

MTuWTh 12:30-3:30 pm

The many ways in which social factors shape sexuality. Focus on cultural diversity, including such factors as race/ethnicity, gender, and sexual identity in organizing sexuality in both individuals and social groups. Also includes adolescent sexuality; the invention of heterosexuality, homosexuality, and bisexuality; the medicalization of sexuality; and social theories about how people become sexual. Prerequisite: 100-level Sociology course.

SOCIOL 395K Domestic Violence

Online

Laura Hickman

hickman@rand.org

Prior to the 1970s, domestic violence in America was widely viewed as a private matter in which public intervention was inappropriate except under the most extreme circumstances. Over the past several decades, however, domestic violence has been increasingly perceived and responded to by the public as a criminal matter. Take a detailed look at patterns and trends in domestic violence in contemporary America, explore theoretical perspectives about its causes, and examine the domestic violence reform movement, paying special attention to research that tries to assess the actual effectiveness of criminal justice reforms in reducing domestic violence.

COMPONENT COURSES

(Majors and minors must focus their paper(s) and project(s) on women/gender. 100-level courses will not count towards the major.)

AFROAM 236 History of the Civil Rights Movement

MTuWTh 3:30-6:30 pm

ANTHRO 103	Human Origins and Variation MTuWTh 9:00-11:30 am
ANTHRO 104	Culture, Society and People MtuWThF 12:30-3:00 pm
COMP-LIT 141	Good and Evil: East and West Online	Lan Dong ldong@complit
EDUC 210	Social Diversity in Education TuWThF 4:00-7:00 pm (1/18-21) Sa 9:00 am-5:00 pm (1/22) MtuWThF 4:00-7:00 pm (1/24-28)	Solomon Abraham tikimt@netzero.net
HISTORY 297D	Gay and Lesbian History MTuWThF 9:00-11:30 am	Heather Murray hamurray@history
SOCIOL 103	Social Problems MTuWTh 12:30-3:30 pm	