New Student Orientation Webinar
Sun, January 7, 1-2 pm EST
Wed, January 10, 7-8 pm EST

For those of you who are unable to attend the New Student Orientation in person, we have three webinar options just for you. Hosted by UWW faculty member Lisa Modenos, our one-hour webinar will walk you through what to expect and address any questions or concerns you may have. You can participate through your computer, mobile device or tablet.

UWW uses an easy-to-use program called Zoom for its webinars. Plan on logging in to the webinar at least 30 minutes before the start time just to make sure you can get in and everything’s working ok. And make sure your speakers are plugged in and working!

FAQS
- Do I need to RSVP to participate in a webinar? No.
- Do I need a webcam to participate in the webinar? No. You will not be visible to others during the webinar.
- Do I need a microphone to participate in the webinar? No. You will not be speaking during the webinar. You will post questions and comments in a chat box.
- Do I need audio to participate in the webinar? Yes. If your computer does not have speakers, you can access the webinar audio by phone. If you have a hearing impairment, please let us know. We are happy to work with you to provide accommodations.
- What will the webinar be like? UWW’s Lisa Modenos will speak to you about UWW. The screen will be split so that you see both the presenter and the material she is showing the audience. At the bottom of the screen, there will be a chat feature which will allow conversation and a Q&A feature which will allow you to ask questions.
