40th - Who is Coming?

updated June 12, 2008 9:40 AM

The following list includes those that we know are coming and those who have said they are trying hard to make arrangements to come. The list is not complete - we will be adding new names as we get them.

Send us updates - do you know someone who is coming who isn't listed - including yourself? If someone isn't there and you hope they can come - call them and urge them to consider coming. If you need an email or phone number, ask us.

Program Overview for CIE 40th Celebratory Conference

Detailed Schedule with times, names and locations.

The goal of this Celebratory Conference is to bring together CIE members from across the decades to share past and present experiences, fun, and ideas for the future of the Center. We hope that, by the end of the three days, participants will have:

- Learned about the work and project experiences of their CIE colleagues, discussed future trends in our field, and contributed suggestions for future academic, project and research endeavors for CIE;
- Laughed and gotten re-connected with colleagues and old friends, met new ones, and had a fun and relaxing time rejuvenating personal and working relationships among those in the CIE network.
