CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

HISTORY & PROJECTS

Founded in 1968, the Center for International Education (CIE) is part of the College of Education at the UMASS Amherst. Historically, CIE has had two major functions: 1) to solicit and manage externally-funded research studies and education development projects; and 2) to simultaneously serve as a learning community for associated graduate students interested in working to develop educational systems around the world- particularly in low-resource settings and those afflicted by conflict and crisis.

The Center in partnership with governments and non-government agencies seeks to address the global challenges of:

- War & conflict (including domestic violence)
- Mass migration
- Disparity of poverty & wealth
- Inequity & access to education, especially for girls
- Climate change

Faculty, staff and graduate students work together in teams utilizing a critical, rigorous, and interdisciplinary approach to dealing with the most complex challenges of our time as we seek out and manage funded projects.

Where CIE has had projects:

Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Botswana, Cambodia, Cote d'Ivoire, Democratic Republic of Congo, Ecuador, Gambia, Ghana, Guatemala, India, Indonesia, Kenya, Senegal, Lesotho, Malawi, Nepal, Nigeria, Pakistan, Palestine, Senegal/The Gambia, Somalia, Sudan, Swaziland, Tanzania, Thailand, Uganda, Ukraine, US

Value of projects since 1972:

Almost $97 million

Sources of funding:

Federal, NGOs, Foundations, International Governments, INGOs

What CIE alumni have gone on to do:

Worked in development at the community and national levels here and abroad, USAID Mission Directors, Chief of Party, Faculty at institutes of higher education in the US and abroad, held government positions in education, founded and run NGO's, and the list goes on!
