

How do I clear my web browser's cache, cookies, and history?

Note:

Clearing your web browser's cache, cookies, and history may remove some data that you wish to keep.

Notes:

- In most computer-based web browsers, you can open menus used to clear cache, cookies, and history, by pressing Ctrl-Shift-Delete (Windows) or Command-Shift-Delete (Mac). If this does not work, follow the appropriate instructions below.
- If you do not see instructions below for your specific version or browser, search your browser's Help menu for "clear cache". If you are unsure what browser version you are using, from the Help menu or your browser's menu, select About [browser name]. In Internet Explorer and Firefox, if you do not see the menu bar, press Alt.

About cache, cookies, and history

Clearing your web browser's cache, cookies, and history may remove data such as the following:

- Saved passwords
- Address bar predictions (e.g. Chrome, Firefox)
- Shopping cart contents, etc.

While you should clear your web browser's cache, cookies, and history periodically in order to prevent or resolve performance problems, you may wish to record some of your saved information first. If you are unable to do so, see Troubleshooting alternatives below.

For information about your web browser's cache, cookies, and history, see the following Wikipedia pages:

Troubleshooting alternatives

If you need to clear your cache, cookies, and history for troubleshooting purposes, but are not yet prepared to lose the content listed above, you may wish to consider using a private browsing window in your preferred browser as a temporary solution. For instructions, see:
