

American Veterinary Medical Association VTNE Scores Reporting

On this page, in accordance with guidelines from the AVMA, we report the passing rate for the Veterinary Technician National Exam (VTNE) among graduates of the Veterinary Technology Program at the former Mount Ida College. In the following table, the number of eligible first-time candidates is based on the number of graduates for the Mount Ida College Veterinary Technology Program for the period indicated.

July 1, 2017 - June 30, 2020
Three-year VTNE pass percentage:	75%*
Number of first-time candidates that have taken the VTNE:	136

*Unlike most states, certification of veterinary technicians in Massachusetts is voluntary. As a result, although we strongly recommend that our graduates take the VTNE, some do not.
