RESEARCH GRANTS

Current:

Promoting Smoking Cessation among Individuals with Food Insecurity

1K01DA043659-01A1

NIH/National Institute on Drug Abuse K01 Mentored Research Scientist Development Award, $817,358

Project period: 9/1/17 – 8/31/22

Role: Principal Investigator

- This is a 5-year career development grant to advance my research program focusing on social determinants of health through a series of mentored research and training experiences. The primary research project will develop and test a novel smoking cessation intervention targeting smokers with food insecurity in partnership with a food assistance program.

Pathways of Socioeconomic Status and Health of Asian Immigrants: Examining Stressors and Health Behaviors

Loan Repayment Program Award (Health Disparities Research)

NIH/National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities

Funding Period: July 2016 – June 2018

Role: Principal Investigator

- This research leverages data from the Healthy Family Project (NIDA R01; PI: J. Tsoh) to investigate pathways by which socioeconomic status is associated with health among Chinese and Vietnamese immigrants.

Completed:

Understanding Factors that Influence Cigarette Smoking among Individuals with Food Insecurity

University of California, San Francisco

Clinical and Translational Science Institute Pilot Award Program, funded by NIH/National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences, awarded $39,428

Funding Period: July 2016 – August 2017

Role: Principal Investigator

- This research examines the psychological experience of food insecurity among smokers and non-smokers in San Francisco using quantitative (surveys) and qualitative (Photovoice, in-depth interviews) methods.
