

Practicum Report

MAC CRISPINO
AUGUST 18, 2019

SYNOPSIS

This practicum was a business development, operations, outreach, and marketing role for the Solar Energy Business Association of New England that's main mission is to represent the solar industry before state regulators and policymakers. They do this by advancing progressive energy policy across the New England region in collaboration with other solar stakeholder groups. I was responsible for fostering and creating new membership, while also completing multiple other tasks and responsibilities relating to the organization.

I learned new skills and created a vast amount of important experiences that I can confidently say put me in a unique learning opportunity in the renewable energy industry. I wore many different hats and collaborated with a variety of new people from all levels of multiple different organizations in the industry. Fortunate to have this opportunity, I hope that I can take the experience and connection I created with SEBANE and continue a career in the renewable energy world.
